

Abstract

Online transaction processing is one of the main applications of computer systems. A purpose of the present invention is to improve the performance and availability of online transaction processing systems. A system that uses the present invention may process more transactions per second and remains more available to its clients than systems using the prior art.